

The Farm at Miller's Crossing

Week of October 20th 2009

518.851.2331

farmatmillerscrossing.com

Fall Carrots and Beets

A few days off.....

There is nothing like a few days off! Just four days feels like an eternity after a season of barely a moment to ourselves. We went to southern Vermont and enjoyed walking the forests, knitting and visiting other people's farms!

We are now down to just the Hudson market which goes through Thanksgiving, two more CSA pick ups and our storage crop sale in early November. We took advantage of a little window to get refueled for the last push of the season.

We are trying to think of a more streamlined way to sell the 10,000 pounds of roots that we usually sell at our sale. Many of you will benefit from this streamlining...we hope to make the day less hectic...but we cannot guarantee that we will not sell out by noon. Despite our attempts to grow more every year, it is a popular day and after noon the selection is significantly reduced.

Enjoy, Katie

We just got some beautiful pictures back from Caroline at the Berkshire Food Journal. She did a great audio slideshow of Chris and I. Check it out at <http://www.berkshirefoodjournal.com/farm-at-millers-crossing>. Let us know what you think!!

Saturday November 7th
8th Annual Storage crop sale
10am-2 pm
and remember you can store your purchases for free in our coolers

The Potatoes are all in!!!